II. Application Essay

Provide a brief, typed essay on a separate piece of paper (no handwritten applications accepted). Be sure your name appears on it, and include:

Section 1: Discuss how this scholarship would financially impact your ability to enter college.

Section 2: A summary of your activities, organization work and/or awards relating to peace and social justice, education, and/or conflict resolution.

Section 3: Describe how you were more than simply a participant, i.e., how your leadership abilities and personal initiative made a difference for the activities or organizations you've been involved with.

Section 4: Describe your goals for the future.

III. Letters of Recommendation

- Include at least two letters of recommendation from people (not members of your immediate family) who have personal knowledge of, and can describe, your academic achievements and/or leadership activities and personal initiative in working for peace & social justice, and/or conflict resolution.
- Letters of recommendation must relate specifically to your leadership activities and personal initiative in working for peace and social justice, education and/or conflict resolution.
- The letters must be included in the same envelope with this application. We regret we cannot accept email or faxed references, or letters mailed separately.
- Be sure to START EARLY in requesting your letters of reference, so that you can receive them in time to mail everything to us in the same envelope by the April 23 postmark deadline.

IV. Affirmation of Eligibility & Signature

(initial here) I have visited the Gainesville Veterans web site <http://www.vfpgainesville.org/> and read about the eligibility requirements. I believe I am qualified to apply for this scholarship.
